

CAMELOT

Once upon a time, in the beautiful land of Camelot lived a very extraordinary witch named Lilly. But as she was living on earth hiding her identity, she maintained her look like an Earthling. She didn't have a lineage of her own but always looked at the world as her own. She owned three beautiful yet mischievous dogs named Lilliput, Bruno and Leo. The dogs were very fond of carrots and wheat bun. So, Lilly used to cycle often around the streets of market fetching for buns and carrots for her beloved. In return, the dogs were too loyal and obedient to her. As she was a witch, she constantly used to learn spells and apply it wherever possible. One day, when she was cycling around in the market unexpectedly, she halted at an age-old library situated at the east edge of the market. Lilly had neither been there before nor did she knew about the library. As she went in she found a very enchanting book named "the magical potion" lying under the shelf of books retaining its lustrous shine. Lilly was fascinated with that book and took it home with her. That day, when she returned home she was preparing a stew for her dogs to drink. While the stew was boiling, she sat on the couch and opened the book to read the first page of it. But there was only a spell written on the page. The spell was quite normal but as soon as Lilly chanted the spell, the stew which she was preparing for the dogs to have burst out and spell worked. The stew was not a stew anymore but became a magical potion. She didn't dare to drink it or experiment with anyone. But as the dogs were mischievous, they drank all the potion. Lilly worried what would happen to them and indeed her feelings were right. The dogs turned into three beautiful unicorns. Lilly wondered what would happen far from this. But the unicorns were also talking to Lilly. Lilly was in an astonishment but loved the way the three were looking. But, she had to change them the way they were before. She went through the whole book but didn't find any solution to return the spell. Exhausted with it she flew with the unicorns in the starry night under the moonlight to the library but found that the library vanished leaving behind a note for her which wrote, " if you want to reverse the spell, you need to find the eternal gem under the waterfall which shines like a sunray and wish to reverse the spell". Lilly had no clue where to find that eternal gem and the waterfall but she knew a place where she went before with her dogs. She flew immediately to the waterfall near the river located at the foothills Camelot hillock. That day she saw the waterfall shining like a sun under which she found the eternal gem. she used the spell to turn the unicorns back to her dogs. That night was so magical and memorable for Lilly and her three pooches that it felt like a deep slumberous dream of enchantment.
